The first Major event of 2012 is here...

We are gearing up for another busy and entertaining year at Mallala Motorsport Park with all of your favourite events back, many with exciting changes, some brand new events and many practice/drive days for all types of motor sport.

We kick off 2012 with our first summer 10/10 Matsuri...
What a way to start the year!

This Saturday Mallala will host the popular 10/10 Matsuri as it makes its second appearance at Mallala following its highly successful and entertaining inaugural event in July last year.

What's it all about? This is a traditional style Matsuri or drift festival bringing drifters with a variety of experience together for a massive day (and night) of drift. Over 100 drift cars will hit the Mallala Circuit and Skid Pan in groups for 12 hours of open track drift. Passengers are allowed all day (conditions apply).

This is a great affordable day out with family and or friends. The weather is also looking perfect for the day (31 degrees and sunny)!

Head to the Mallala Website for further information

What coming up in 2012...

All your favourites are back again!

G1 Extreme Drift will begin its 8th Season with Round 1 on February 25th!

The 2012 Series will continue with the 3 Round format:

Round 1 - 25th February (Twilight)

Round 2- 1st July

Round 3- 20th October (Twilight)

However, this year the events will have a very different look.

A new addition to the G1 program will be the 'G1 Open Track'. This part of the event will be open to both G1 and non-G1 competitors running during the 4 hours prior to the main event. The session will double as a practice session for G1 competitors.

The G1 Competition itself has undergone a makeover with some changes to make the events move quicker with less down time.

Qualifying this year will consist of only two runs, with no practice runs during the session. Each entrant is required to do both these runs consecutively with their best score counting as their qualifying score.

The successful Wildcard format will be back again in 2012. This format has seen many advance deep into the Top 16 after poor qualifying runs. This section of the program will start straight after qualifying and roll through quickly.

Team drift will be back in 2012! It will be replacing the Twin Drift. Team Drift will consist of a minimum of 3 cars and a maximum of 5 cars. This will give entrants a chance to show off their skills with their mates and is always fun to watch.

Following some other minor changes to the Regulations you will find G1 to have a fresh feel to it in 2012. G1 is the longest running drift comp in the country and continues to grow with the sport. We look forward to your support in 2012 as we endeavour to make this the most enjoyable and entertaining Series yet.

G1 Entries are open!

MallaNats will be back in 2012 with TWO events! That's right we are going to do it twice!!

April 28th
December 1st

A big change for MallaNats.....

We are moving to a one day format.
All of your favourite events will be back and packed into one big day, finishing under lights at Mallala.

Due to popular demand we have added an event earlier in the year to compliment our traditional December date.

The Friday park-up/safety check option proved to be popular in 2011 and will be repeated for both events in 2012.

More details shortly.

The major drift event of the year, the Drift Supercup will have a major overhaul in 2012. Moving from 2 days to a 1 day event on 12th May, it will now be exclusively a drift event.

It will maintain its status as a national drift event with travel subsidies being offered to interstate competitors.

As well as the familiar 'Street' & 'Pro' class competitions there will be some exciting new drifting events added to the program.

More details shortly.
